

Disclaimer

Www.vljmag.com ("Website") contains facts, views, opinions, statements, recommendations, advertisements and other content and links to external websites (collectively, "Website Content") not owned or controlled by its parent company, VLJ GROUP LLC, ("Company") or websites. It is the intent of Website to present accurate and unbiased information.

Company and Website use reasonable efforts to include current and accurate information on the Website, but Company and Website make no warranties or representations as to the accuracy, safety or value of Website Content published, displayed, uploaded, downloaded or distributed through Website or other Company print publications and assume no liability or responsibility for errors or omissions in Website or print Content. This information is from a variety of unaudited and unverified sources. This Website and Company accept no responsibility for the actions of third parties or for Website Content provided or posted by third parties. Website Content does not necessarily reflect the views, opinions or recommendations of Company or Website and any reliance upon Website Content is taken at the user's sole risk.